

OLIMPIA

With 30 Honduran championships (last: 2016 Clausura) and a pair of CONCACAF Champions Cup titles (1972, 1988), Olimpia can stake a claim as one of the region's all-time best clubs. It was the only team to qualify for all previous nine editions of the Scotiabank CONCACAF Champions League (SCCL).

Compiling a SCCL record of 18W-8D-14L (65GF, 45GA), Olimpia has the fifth-most points of any team in the competition's history (62), trailing only Mexican powers Cruz Azul (106), Santos (95), Monterrey (87) and Pachuca (64).

With eight goals, including six in the 2010/11 edition, forward Roger Rojas is Olimpia's all-time leading SCCL scorer.

SANTOS DE GUAPILES

Costa Rica's Santos de Guapiles, which has never won a domestic league title, is appearing in its first CONCACAF final. It is the only team to go undefeated in Scotiabank CONCACAF League play with a 5W-1D-0L record, including a perfect 3-0-0 at home.

If Santos lifts the trophy, it will become the fourth team from Costa Rica to be crowned a CONCACAF champion. Saprissa (1993, 1995, 2005), Alajuelense (1986, 2004) and Cartagines (1994) won the CONCACAF Champions' Cup a combined six times.
